SUBJECT: Robert W. Steinbach

Dear Alan:

Thank you for the information you recently sent us concerning the above named individual. This is helpful to us and will enable us to identify Mr. Steinbach should he attempt registration in another location.

We would like to have more information. If you have a copy of a court record or newspaper clipping which indicates the final outcome of any legal action, this would help to complete our file. If you can get a statement from the police which indicates his confession to child abuse, this would substantiate our decision. This information is needed for any decisions that are made in the future.

Thanks again for your help in protecting the youth of America.

Sincerely,

Paul Ernst, Director

Signal to be installed at fatal crossing

City worker Joe Freguez used a jackhammer yesterday to break up a sidewalk at East Colfax Avenue and Glencoe Street so a traffic signal can be installed where two girls were struck and killed by a pickup truck in February.

der (Homatowski's) direction really screwed up in a big way, and he's getting the highest award the agency gives," said Jeff Hodges, spokesman for the oversight and investigations committee. "What kind of example does that set?"

typical of (X)E, snowed out, only for someone who carried out their mission," Alvarez said. "But it's an inappropriate way to express it. It has to be based not just on how quickly and cheaply he's developed a nuclear arsenal, but what legacy he's leaving behind."

Detective suspended in sex case

Rocky Mountain News Staff

Chief Cliff Stanley. Steinbach was suspended Tuesday, Stanley said.

A 20-year veteran Denver police detective has been suspended for 10 days pending an investigation of allegations that he sexually assaulted [REDACTED].

police said yesterday.

Robert W. Steinbach, co-sponsor of the department's youth Explorer program, could lose his pay during the suspension if felony charges are filed against him by the Arapahoe County Sheriff's Department this week, said Assistant Police Pat Sullivan, Arapahoe County sheriff, said deputies took evidence earlier this week from Steinbach's home in Arapahoe County. He said juvenile members of Steinbach's police Explorer program also are being questioned in the investigation. Sullivan said the alleged attack involving Steinbach occurred over a period of time several years ago. He would not reveal what prompted the probe. Steinbach has not been arrested.
